The cabinet held a brief session this morning to canvass the situation.

Washington, March 8.—The United States has received no official notification from the allies of the action taken in occupying German territory. It was announced at the state department today. Thus far this government has had to depend upon press dispatches and reports from diplomatic officers as to the allied purpose in the occupation of German territory.

SIMONS'S PARTY OFF FOR HOME

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, March 5.—The German delegates to the indemnity conference headed by Dr. Walter Simons, the foreign minister, left for home this afternoon. All wore civilian dress except General Von Seeckt, who had appeared at yesterday's session in full dress uniform with a long sword at his belt. There was much hat lifting and bowing on the platform at Victoria Station while the Germans were waiting for their train. Dr. Simons said he thought he would be back in London in a few weeks as was confident the conference would be reopened.

On the same train were a number of Belgian army officers who had recalled from leave of absence, owing to the Allies' decision to advance the Rhine.

STOCK COMPANY MAKES FRIEND

The Joseph W. Payton Stock Company opened a week's engagement at the Kingston Opera House Monday with the celebrated farce, "The Lion, the Bedroom and Bath," which is a domestically successful run in New York last season. As presented the Payton Company, the troupe easily could attract a big crowd more than one matinee and evening performance. The same Payton is associated with a theatrical production and the company of Joseph W., who has been Kingston many times, like companies of George Payton, preceded him in coming to the Opera House, fully meets the popular one which presents good and splendid comedies and dramatic scenery have marked for Payton standard both the comic and the dramatic performance. Kingston this season were critical slanders. Tonight's presentation will be "O' My Heart," Wednesday's attraction for next night will be "Fair and Warmer."

Mrs. Gertrude Struble had the pleasure of attending to make the first step in the home. An old friend, falling down a short flight of stairs and breaking her left leg, she is resting as comfortably as could be expected today.

On Many Problems.

March 7.—"Apparition
of the future," will be the pro-

world peace.

The phrase was carefully chosen by the president as he stood upon the threshold of the main doorway of the White House early this morning.

The president stressed the adjective "apparition" with special emphasis, as he greeted the newspaper correspondents.

He said he was not a prophet, but he believed that the world was on the verge of a new era of peace.

TWENTY EXTRA JURORS CALLED

When Trial Panel Of 26 Delinquent
To 10 Through Exhausted Or Non-Appearance In Supreme Court—
Last Of Cases Not Yet Ready For Day Calendar.

The March term of supreme court was convened Monday afternoon at the court house Judge Joseph Roach presiding. There is a trial and grand jury in attendance. For the first time in many months every one of the grand jurors was present and but two were excused. Howard Barger of Escopus and David Woolsey of Marlborough. Henry E. Mc-Kenzie of Fort Worth was selected by the court as foreman of the grand jury.

Service on the trial jury, however, appears not to be as attractive, as grand jury duty is a fully three-quarters of the men drawn desired to be excused. Seventeen out of a panel of 36 were either excused or failed to answer to their names when called and Judge Roach directed the sheriff to summon twenty extra jurors to report at 11 o'clock this morning.

The names were drawn from the regular county box. There are 188 cases on the calendar but few of them were marked for trial at the call of the calendar and it was with difficulty that a day calendar was finally made up of the following cases.

No. 2-C, preferred cause, People of the State of New York against Henry B. Wesley, an action to recover penalties for violation of the Public Health Law.

No. 11, Augustus Geiger against Dwight Divine, an action for flowing lands.

No. 145, William Soffer against Morris Goodman, goods sold and delivered.

No. 156, Eugene Niles against Joseph Ballenberg, negligence growing out of an automobile accident.

No. 179, F. W. Joseph, et al against Burdette S. Diabrow, account stated.

No. 152, Forsyth & Davis against Morris I. V. Miller, goods sold and delivered.

The following cases were dismissed with costs on motion of attorneys for defendant:

Anna Donnelly against the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company,
negligence. Brinnier, Canfield &
Brinnier for defendant.

Frank Donnelly against the King-
ston Consolidated Railroad Company,
negligence. Brinnier, Canfield & Brinnier attorneys for defendant.

Frank Donnelly against the King-
ston Consolidated Railroad Company,
negligence. Brinnier, Canfield & Brinnier attorneys for
defendant.

Harry Monchick against M. J.
Everett, as admr., an action on contract. Grant M. Brinnier attorney for defendant.

The nine actions brought by Hubert Kelly against several insurance companies to recover on insurance policies were given an airing and Judge Roach announced that one of the cases would be tried at this term. These cases have been up at every term of court for the past couple of years but have been put over one reason or another. At the last term of supreme court Justice Nichols took up trial of one but the case was dismissed when a technical error was found in the complaint. Since then Judge Hasbrouck has granted an order in special term to amend the complaint. John R. DeVany appears for Mr. Kelly and Judge James Jenkins appears for Mills & Mills, attorneys for the insurance companies.

TEXAN HIS OWN DETECTIVE

Finally Arrests Alleged "Master Mind" of Fake Stock Scheme in Jacksonville and Is Now Back On His Ranch Satisfied, Although He Lost Over $45,000.

By T. J. Jones to The Freeman.
Fort Worth, Tex., March 8.—The man hunt has ended after fourteen months of searching through eighteen states and Mexico, and J. Frank Nor-fleet, grim-visaged Texas plainsman,
has gone home to Hale Centre, Tex., to rest. Joe Furey, the man he sought and the man who is alleged to have fleeced him out of $45,000,
on a fake stock scheme is in jail here. He will go to trial before a jury in Judge George E. Hoesy's District Court here this month.

Like a Western melodrama run
the details of Norfleet's search for Furey, who also is wanted in California, Florida and Washington.

Norfleet was awinded out of his life's fortune on November 10, 1919.
Three men, it is alleged, did the job.
Then the man hunt started. It was a month later that E. J. Ward and Charles Gerber, two of the alleged swindlers, were arrested in Los Angeles, Cal., and after a fight to prevent extradition, were returned here to stand trial. In turn, the both were given the maximum sentence of ten years each.

And while Norfleet conducted his nationwide search for Joe Furey, Charles Gerber remained in jail here
where he now is awaiting a decision on his appeal to a higher court. E.
J. Ward, taken to Washington to stand trial on a charge similar to the one under which he was convicted, committed suicide in the Washington jail in November, 1920.

"It has been fourteen months since I lost my money," declares Norfleet. "But as the days went by I still had hope. I grew more determined. The folks back at Hale Centre, where I live issued a silent and stinging ultimatum that I wouldn't get my man. I quit the ranch and became a special deputy. I was given a warrant for Furey's arrest and told that the Governor of Texas would ask for the extradition of Furey from any state in which I captured him.

"I took my son, Pete, out of a normal school to aid me in the chase. My wife managed the ranch, feeding brotherless lambs from a bottle and attending to the household duties.

"Pete and me followed Furey's trail from Tia Juana, Mexico, to St.
Paul, going through eighteen states.
We went to Minneapolis, St. Paul,
Joliet, Des Moines, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, El Paso, San Antonio, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, San Francisco,
Hot Springs, Birmingham, Atlanta, Mobile, Biloxi and Tampa. Finding evidence of Furey's ramifications in all those cities. We learned that he had visited England and France and knew that he was being chased.

"At Jacksonville, Fla., we landed him and I got extradition papers.
When we arrived in Jacksonville I went to the detective bureau. They told me Furey was wanted there and that 'he's not likely to fight.' But I kept on. There were eight large hotels there. I knew Furey would be stopping at one of them, for he always had plenty of money. I stationed Pete at one hotel, while I made the rounds of the others. We had arranged to meet each other every forty-five minutes. I went to the meeting place and there was Pete.

"I've found him," he said. I went immediately with him to the hotel where he had seen Furey. We trailed Furey into a cafe. As I neared the table where he was seated he raised his head. His eyes met mine. He recognized me. He jumped to his feet and started to run. I pulled my pistol and covered him. I told him I had a warrant for his arrest.

"Furey began screaming. 'Police!
Robber! Bandit!' he yelled. People jumped up from their tables. As people surrounded us Furey started to push his way out. I grabbed him by the collar—it was a death grip. Bystanders grabbed me and pulled me across the room, but I clung to Furey. I tried to explain to the crowd, but with Furey yelling my explanations were drowned out. Pete drew his pistol. A policeman rushed in and started to hit him with a club.
'He's our man,' yelled Pete. 'We have a warrant for his arrest.' He held up the warrant and the police then took charge of Furey."

At police headquarters in Jacksonville, according to Norfleet's story, Furey offered to bribe officers in an effort to escape. He denied that he was the man Norfleet had a warrant for.

"How do you know this is the right man?" Norfleet was asked.
"Because I have his picture," Nor-fleet answered.

And with extradition papers from the governor of Texas honored by the governor of Florida, Norfleet started on the home stretch eager to see the manhunt and so back to his people.
But the manhunt was not over. Furey escaped later. He jumped from a fast-moving train enroute from Jacksonville to Fort Worth. Norfleet and his son stopped the train. They hired an automobile, recaptured Furey, who was injured from the fall, and caught the next train out of Jacksonville.

"I was worth the fortune I lost," Norfleet told me. "The chase was thrilling. I tricked the trickster and proved to the 'master mind' that you can't get away with anything if you pick a west Texas for a racket."

Fake Country Unappreciated.
The most singular pleasure in the world is in the island of Japan. The pleasure is elevated 400 feet above the sea, and there are numerous towering 1000 feet higher, but the true pleasure of the quarter lies in the view of the great plain with its beautiful vegetation.
The climate is a perpetual spring, there being in every bush and the only outcrop are a few mountains, such as Mount Fuji and Mount Ararat. For the lovely region is mostly covered.
The million Japanese live in the great cities and towns and only a few are left in the country.

In a letter to the Japanese women
the most important one is the right

been fighting for this right for many

YOUNG GIRL IS ABANDONED HERE

Monday evening a girl who said her name was Sarah Spots of No. 133 11th street, New York, and years, walked into police headquarters at the city hall and told a man named Edward Miller, who placed her in the home of some relatives, and then abandoned her.

According to her story she had been in New York and he had been in New York to Kingston on his promise to marry her. They arrived in town last Friday, and the next day Miller disappeared without informing her as to where he was going and she had no way of knowing where he was. She was without friends and she had no way of knowing where he was. She had no way of knowing where he was. She had no way of knowing where he was.

and asked that she be given money to purchase a railroad ticket to return to her home.

This morning Chief Wood got in touch with the charitable authorities who furnished the girl with the necessary ticket and placed her on the train and sent her home.

Dream Evidently Impressed Him. St. Paul's cathedral is cracking up a bit, but to the average intelligence it is at least as "safe as houses." A city man whose place of business is in the shadow of the cathedral is not so sure about that. He had a vivid dream in which he saw the vast building crumble up and demolish all the adjoining property in its fall. So disturbed was his mind as a result that he at once went to an underwriter and took out a policy which will cover his loss if the mighty edifice collapses.

Best of All Things. It is a good thing to be rich, and it is a good thing to be strong but it is a better thing to be loved of many friends.—Exchange

QUIET ALONG PANAMA "FRONT"

Costa Rican Border Back of White Award Boundary—Panama's Excluded and Protest Amortizing Mediation on Any But Loubet Award.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Bulboa, Panama Canal Zone, March 5.—A more favorable situation existed along the Panama-Costa Rica frontier today, and news was received here that the Costa Rican troops who had crossed into Panama territory were retiring across the Sixaola river which was the frontier fixed by the White boundary award.

Feeling is running very high in Panama City and the guard of United States troops around the official residence of President Porras has been trebled.

A mass meeting was held last night when speakers protested against mediation by the United States upon the basis of the White award. Sixty municipal councils throughout the republic have sent protests of similar nature to the government.

All were turned over to the national assembly which was expected to serve formal notice upon President Porras not to accept mediation unless it was upon the principle of the Loubet award which gave Panama more territory than the White award.

A rumor was circulated that another fight had taken place between the Panamanians holding the village of Coto and the Costa Ricans, but it proved untrue. What happened was that the Panamanians rounded up about 100 Costa Rican stragglers, making prisoners of them.

The captives included three colonels and a major.

An internment camp for "war prisoners" has been established on Taboga Island.

STATE INCOME TAX INFORMATION

New York state income taxpayers in Ulster county should file their returns with District Director J. D. Hasbrouck at 518 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y., on or before April 15, 1936.

Maurice: While I will report income received from ten A T & S bonds, I will deduct $5 paid for safe deposit vault to protect them. Am I right?

Answer—This expense is a proper business deduction.

Velle: While I am positive about deducting my automobile registration fee, doubt exists in my mind as to the so-called war tax on my new car.

Answer—Such amount is a manufacturer's tax and is not deductible in the return of the purchaser of the car.

Fort Lee: What disturbing news is this that non-residents are not allowed stock losses on the New York Stock Exchange?

Answer—It is true—non-residents are not required to report income from such sources or permitted to deduct losses from such sources.

Albany: Did I do right in taking out my commutation fares between my home and the General Electric plant in Schenectady as a business expense?

Answer—No; commutation fares are personal expenses and are not deductible.

Widow: My husband died in 1920. Is the value of property set aside for me as the widow's allowance, income to me and taxable?

Answer—No; since it constitutes a transfer of capital assets upon the death of your husband.

F. S. B.: The L. S. & M. S. R. R. paid 3 1/2% on its first mortgage bonds which are free from state taxes. Who pays the income tax, the owner of the bonds or railroad?

Answer—The owner of the bonds should include in his income the interest from the bonds and the 2% additional tax on such bond interest paid by the corporation to the federal government. This latter amount is additional income to the bond owner and not a deduction.

Farmer: If my income from milk, sale of eggs, chickens and a cow and a calf was $3,600; my school tax was $40, federal land tax $78, and feed, hay, stalks, freight charges, horse shoeing and labor amounted to $1,400; cost of tar paper roof on ice house was $700; interest on mortgage amounted to $325; as a married man do I have to pay a tax?

Answer—No, your net income is less than $2,000. However, the amount expended for tar paper roof is a capital investment and not deductible.

Non-resident: The bank by which I am employed in New York has withheld the state income tax from my salary. I have no other income there. Does this withholding relieve me of the requirement of filing an individual return?

Answer—No. The law requires that every taxpayer having net income in excess of his personal exemption, should file a return.

Business: In 1920, I collected accounts receivable which became due in 1918. Must I include such collections as income for 1920?

Answer—No. The state income tax law became effective January 1, 1919. Accounts receivable, due on that date, are capital assets to the extent of their fair market value as of January 1, 1919, and their subsequent payment is regarded as return of capital.

Employee: My employer failed in 1920 owing me $700 wages. May I deduct this item as a loss?

Answer—No. The amount of your earnings to be reported has been reduced to this extent.

Apes are so human that even when they display traits that in man would be simply abominable man cannot help laughing. A correspondent in South Africa writes that certain large apes are so much in the habit of raiding the coffee plantations that they have to be guarded.

Among the coffee trees there grows a shrub, the fruit of which the apes particularly enjoy. But as wages for their own to be stolen, the apes are fearful of being caught, usually keep away from them. One morning the people in a certain plantation found the apes making fearful noises and, rushing out, saw a singular scene. A large baboon, the leader of a band, was cowering some young ones at the edge of a tree. The young ones were crying piteously, but the old baboon paid no heed to their pleas. When they were crying from the edge of the shrub he quickly proceeded to reach himself with the fruit which he could eat without danger. Occasionally he would throw a handful to some female and young and then say off.—Youth's Companion.

ONE CAN'T BE TOO CAREFUL

His Friend's Deafness Came Very Near Getting Innocent Man Into Quite Serious Trouble.

Capt. Sutton Rutherford, the new polo star, said at Chevy Chase last month:

"I wonder what the maximum price of whisky will be under prohibition? It seems and seems and, really, to be offered a drink today is a high compliment."

Captain Rutherford smiled.

"The question of treating," he continued, "has a humorous side, too."

"A friend of mine whispered anxiously to me the other day at a club:

"There goes Rogers! I try to avoid him nowadays, for he is becoming deafener than ever, and it is dangerous to accost him. Recently I hailed him with:

"Fine day, Rogers," and he smiled and answered:

"Will I licker? Sure, Mike! Lead me to it!"

"And blast it a passing prohibition-enforcement officer didn't arrest us both on suspicion."

THE SERVICE CHARGE

If gas were sold at the corner grocery like other things, would it be cheaper? Yes, indeed. By paying cash on delivery and carrying your gas with you, you could get a big bag full for a penny. And for a dollar—well, we leave it to your imagination.

But that isn't the most interesting thing. The fun would commence when you tried to use the gas. "Now that I have it," you would say, "what am I going to do with it?" And immediately you would discover you had bought the wrong thing; that it was GAS SERVICE you wanted and not a bag full of gas.

There is a big difference. GAS WITHOUT SERVICE is of little use to anyone. But GAS WITH SERVICE is a necessity. One is mere vapor; the other, fuel—clean, efficient, reliable—ready when you want it, where you want it.

You speak of street car service, telephone service, train service, mail service. Why not gas service? That's what you buy, use and pay for.

This service includes the direct definite investment made by the Company to connect the consumers' premises to its gas mains by a service pipe that is good only for that particular purpose. It must maintain this service and a meter at that place whether any gas is used or not.

The service charge form of rate, enables the consumers who really use gas to secure it at a lower rate than if they had to pay the losses involved in serving consumers who use gas for emergency only.

BELIEVES IRISH WANT PEACE

Archbishop Gillmartin, Opposed by Many Sinn Feiners, Still Insists That Peace Would Be Welcome.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, March 5.—Dr. Gillmartin, the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Tuam, who launched the "truce of God" campaign in Ireland, for which he has been attacked by many Sinn Feiners, still holds steady in his belief that the Irish people would welcome peace.

The Archbishop's pronouncement on peace some months ago was the cause of the first serious canvass and public discussion of the possibilities of settlement that Ireland had known in many troubled months.

He is a man of tremendous influence in the province of Connaught, and he has continued to wield this influence in favor of a settlement. Sinn Fein, or more particularly the militant leaders declare him suspected of imperialist leanings.

The International News Service has presented to him a series of questions and his answers, in view of his position in that country, constitute an important analysis of the Irish situation today.

The questions and answers follow: "Apart from what you have already suggested in communications to the press, have you any other ideas as to how the present conflict in Ireland can be terminated?"

"If the British government," the Archbishop answered, "were to offer Ireland full fiscal control and allow the representatives of the people to meet to discuss their offer and all questions connected with it, including the partition bill, I believe that a speedy end would be put to the present conflict. I feel quite sure the representatives and the people would satisfy the government in all questions affecting the safety of the Empire."

"Could you or would you advise a cessation of hostilities on the part of the Irish Republican Army with a view to an armistice?"

"I believe that hostilities on the Irish side would cease at once if a guarantee were given on the other side that there would be no aggression during the negotiations."

"Do the Irish people want peace in their present temper?"

"In my opinion, the Irish people are willing to have peace and friendship on the terms implied in the answer to the first question."

"Are there any grounds for the suggestion frequently appearing in English newspapers and other publications hostile to Ireland's demands that the Roman Catholic hierarchy would be repudiated by Catholic Ireland if it attempted at this moment to condemn Sinn Fein?"

"This is a question which cannot arise. As a body the bishops do not interfere in pure politics. They have already spoken on the moral aspects of the present conflict. They have condemned crime on both sides."

"As there appears to be a disposition on the part of the Irish Republican Army to make the conflict a fight to a finish, what do you think of Ireland's chances?"

"To all appearances there is no chance of a military success, but as to other lines of success opinions differ."

"My own view is that a continuation of the conflict will bring disaster to both countries."

SKINNER PRAISES SAVINGS ASS'NS

State Banks Superintendent Believes Cooperative Savings and Loan Movement Is of More Service Than Any Other in Promoting Thrift.

"Very few people not connected with the cooperative savings and loan movement realize the magnitude of the operations of these institutions," said Irvin McCausland, secretary of the Home-Seekers' Association this morning to a Freeman reporter. "Some interesting facts regarding the growth of the associations in this state during 1919 are taken from the annual report of the superintendent of banks. For the first time in the history of the cooperative savings and loan associations in this state assets reached more than $100,000,000, an increase of more than $11,000,000 during the year. Millions of dollars were subscribed through our organizations for Liberty Bonds, and they had the most efficient machinery, naturally, for selling the bonds on small installments. The associations had on January 1st, 1919, $4,312,640 of bonds reported in their assets, practically all of them United States government obligations.

"Some information taken from the annual report of Superintendent of Banks Skinner will be found interesting. As usual he commends our associations to the people, and he states that:

"The growth of savings and loan associations of the state during the past year should be a source of genuine satisfaction to all the citizens of the state, for it is probable that, in proportion to their size, these mutual corporations are of greater service in promoting thrift among our working people than any other type of financial institutions. While they furnish a remunerative return upon their savings to those who can only save in small amounts, their avowed purpose and their greatest glory is the promotion of home-building and home-owning. It is their aim to free wage-earners from the exactions of landlords and to enable every laborer and every artisan who will practice thrift to have a stake in the land, a permanent habitation for his family. It is needless to say that during the past year their success along these lines has only been limited by the amount of money which they could obtain.

"There are now 45,000 men and women in this state buying their homes through savings and loan associations, with the average loan about $2,500, and all first mortgage loans which are being paid down weekly or monthly and in the course of a few years systematic payments make the home free, depending upon the amount paid in. However, for the benefit of the general public it is well to say that on the basis of $10 a month for each $1,000, a mortgage is paid off in twelve years or less. As the superintendent of banks intimates in his report, savings and loan associations come more closely to the people than any other class of banking institutions in his jurisdiction. The members, or depositors, whatever one prefers to call them, have the power to elect officers and also the power to examine the accounts and mortgages of the associations where they are depositing.

HOW SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATIONS OPERATE

For The Investor

MONTHLY DEPOSITS

Anyone, including minors by parent, trustee or guardian, may become a member of a Savings & Loan Association, as an investor. The investor deposits such a fixed sum as he may wish, each month—one dollar or more—each dollar deposit representing one share of stock.

These deposits are continued until they, together with the dividends earned, equal $200 a share. This requires usually 144 monthly payments. In other words, $144 deposited a dollar a month, gives the shareholder $200, when the share is called "matured."

This period, of course, is estimated, as the law does not permit Associations to guarantee rate of dividend nor period of maturity, any more than it permits Savings Banks to guarantee their rate of interest, but the above example is based upon years of experience.

DIVIDENDS.

Dividends are declared and credited to the member's shares once or twice a year. Shares may be withdrawn at any time. If withdrawn during the first year the member forfeits his dividends. If withdrawn AFTER the first year, he forfeits only a small portion of his dividends.

There is but one fee, called a membership fee, of 25 cents per share, to be paid with the first monthly deposit.

PREPAID SHARES.

Some Associations also issue "Prepaid" Shares. These call for a lump sum deposit of $100 per share (plus membership fee.) These shares receive the dividends as the installment share above described, and the member has the further privilege of withdrawing 90% of his dividends in cash, at any time. He also withdraw his deposit and the balance of his dividends at any time, without any loss or deduction whatever.

THE SERIES

A member may take as many installment or prepaid shares as he wishes. Prepaid shares may be taken at any time; installment shares are also issued at any time, but are in the current "Series," which means that the member must pay for any previous months during which the Series has been running.

For example, if the Association's current series commenced in February, and the member joins in March, he would pay two monthly installments, one for February and one for March, and his earnings would be credited the same as if he had joined the Association in February. Loan Associations usually issue at least two series a year, at certain fixed periods.

Savings & Loan Associations, being under the Banking Law, are supervised by the Banking Department. Their money is loaned on small first mortgages dwellings in the city or immediate vicinity. The shares earn for shareholder an excellent return by way of dividends. They make an attractive and safe investment for the person whose income is fixed, even if small, as well as for those whose income may permit of large investments.

Our next article will tell How the Savings & Loan Associations Operate—for the Borrower.

ENTERTAINMENTS THAT DID PAY

Number of Occasions On Which Money Was Raised For Charity At High School Auditorium Through Women's Efforts Are Cited—$800 Netted at One Time.

Because of the sweeping assertion made at a recent meeting of the Board of Education, (at which the Federation of Women's Clubs was represented, asking for the use of the High School Auditorium for an educational entertainment on the "usual terms," alone) that while a number of charitable entertainments had been held in the High School, the speaker "failed to learn and had yet to hear of," money being paid over to those charities, a number of organizations and individuals who did pay considerable sums as the result of their efforts have so notified the Federation, in order that they may be publicly exonerated from the charge.

On November 3rd, Miss Virginia Los Kamp paid into the treasury of the Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross the sum of $482.45, the net proceeds from a benefit concert given by her with her artists assisting.

In May, 1918, the Adriel Bible Class of the First Presbyterian Church, through Miss Niemont, Hewitt, paid into the Red Cross treasury, $57.50, the net proceeds from an entertainment given for the benefit of the local Red Cross.

As the net financial result of a concert given by the Choir Boys of the Paulist Fathers, in November, 1918, the Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross treasury was enriched by $302.50, the net proceeds from that entertainment.

For at least four years, the Parent Teacher Association of the city have annually given an entertainment at the high school auditorium, and with the exception of last year when something less than $10 was diverted for the fund for entertainment, the entire proceeds of these entertainments has gone to the state fund for Child Welfare work.

On the 24th of October, 1919, Constance Dawson lectured at the High School Auditorium, bringing brought to this city by the Kingston Chapter of the School Women's Club of the Hudson Valley. As a result of that lecture something over $200 (over and above what was paid the lecturer) was converted into a fund for helping care for and relieving Kingston school children suffering from physical defects.

The proceeds of the even and odd night, but also other admetts, and that fund is still doing its meritorious work.

These are the only organizations which have reported in the Federation which notes that all of the entertainments have been given and money paid over either to individual women, or women's societies.

Calling It Off First. The money of the eye, the nose and the mouth of it have been mentioned, and are found to be common sense of a second.

NILES GIVEN $450 VERDICT

For Damages to Car Caused by Joseph Ballenberg in Collision—New Jurors Appear.

The first case taken up this morning when supreme court convened was that brought by Eugene Niles against Joseph Ballenberg, an action brought to recover damages to Mr. Niles's automobile which was damaged in a collision on the Stony Hollow hill. There was no appearance on the part of the defendant and a verdict for $449.90 was returned by the jury. Mr. Niles sought to recover for damage to his Ford car, loss of service during the time it was laid up for repairs and loss of time while he was laid up by reason of injuries received, totaling $458.99. Judge William D. Brainerd appeared for Mr. Niles.

At the conclusion of the case the action brought by Augustus Geiger against Dwight Divino of Ellenville was taken up. This is an action for flowing lands. Anna Van Ethen appears for plaintiff and A. T. Clearwater for defendant.

The twenty additional jurors who were summoned Monday evening by Sheriff Koltz reported at 11 o'clock this morning. The names drawn were:

Nature's Ready-Made Cement. In some parts of the United States natural cement rocks are found which contain exactly the proper proportions of materials to produce Portland cement; but even in these localities it is generally necessary to add either iron ore or silica in order to get the proper mixture.

COACHES HANKER TO MAKE RULES

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 8.—Football coaches want a hand in the making of rules governing the game.

Representation on the central board of officials, plans for an annual general session at the close of each season to consider football problems and a national association of active football coaches are among recommendations announced today by a body of prominent "grid" men who met here to discuss means for benefiting the sport. The meeting convened at the suggestion of Major Charles D. Daley, head football coach at West Point.

The recommendations of the football coaches will be put before the coming intercollegiate meeting.

BROWNS EXPECT TO FINISH HIGH

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 8.—"I believe the Browns will give every American League pennant aspirant a tough battle before the race is over."

So said Lee Fohl, manager of the St. Louis Americans, in a telegraphed interview to International News Service today from Bogalusa, La.

"It is early for predictions," Fohl continued, "yet I feel confident that New York, Cleveland or any other club will find St. Louis very much in the way."

"A great many critics are picking the Yankees but I do not rate them a cinch by any means. I do not believe Miller Huggins is satisfied with his team, for even at this late date he still is trying to land an outfielder and an infielder. Aside from Ruth's hitting ability I can not see the Yankee outfielder as a world beater. Bob Roth, for instance, has been on every team in the league but two."

"I think that Washington, along with Cleveland, New York and the Browns should finish in the first division. The Athletics will probably show enough improvement to climb out of the cellar as Chicago and Boston probably will not secure very strong. Detroit, I believe, ought to head the second division."

"I am not predicting a pennant for the Browns but I think very highly of them. I think I have the best all-around outfield in the league in Williams, Jacobson and Tobin. On the infield, Slater at first is the peer of first basemen in both hitting and fielding. At second base will be either Bill Gleason from Chattanooga, or Marty McManus. Both are showing class in training and it will be some time before a decision is made between them. McManus, by the way, comes from Tulsa."

"With Gerber at short and Earl Smith being groomed for the regular third base job, replacing Jimmy Austin, who is to assist me in handling the team, I feel we will have a snappy offensive and good set of infielders."

"Sovereid, Billings, and Pat Collins, will do our catching. The former is one of the most reliable backstops in either league. This trio will hold up the pitchers. I have 12 pitchers in camp at present and it will take some study to decide on the new ones to be retained. I am depending on Shocker, 'Dixie' Davis, Barwell, Billy Payne, a young left hander, Allan Southern, George Roshier, formerly with Detroit and Nick Callow, formerly a Yankee. We have several promising youngsters in Charlie Root, Joe Deberry and Ray Kelp."

The best looking recruit who has come to the Browns since George Slater broke in is Phil Todd, who was awarded to us recently by Judge Landis. He came to us as a pitcher but is being schooled as an infielder. He is but 19 years old and a long distance, left handed hitter."

The Fourth Dimension.

The fourth dimension of space is supposed to give dimensions where motion is the recognized dimension of length, breadth and thickness is supposed to be that borne by any of these in the other two. Four-dimensional space may be regarded as a hypothetical conception to explain equations of the fourth degree in analytical geometry or as an entity beyond the limitations of an ordinary existence.

SINN FEIN LEADER SHOT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Dublin, March 8.—Patrick Hogan, who was said to have been commander of a battalion in the Irish Republican army, was shot to death in a skirmish between Crown forces and armed civilians at Clonmel, according to information from that place today.

A British officer and two men were wounded when fired upon from ambush in Galway.

James Keenely, a herder, was shot by men in uniform while tending cattle in a field.

The Carnegie Library at Listowell in County Kerry was burned to the ground during the night.

While the congregation of a Catholic Church were at worship in Milltown-Malbray, soldiers surrounded the building. All the men were forced to march two miles to repair a bridge.

Fifteen soldiers were captured by Sinn Feiners near Roslaura but were subsequently released by their companions.

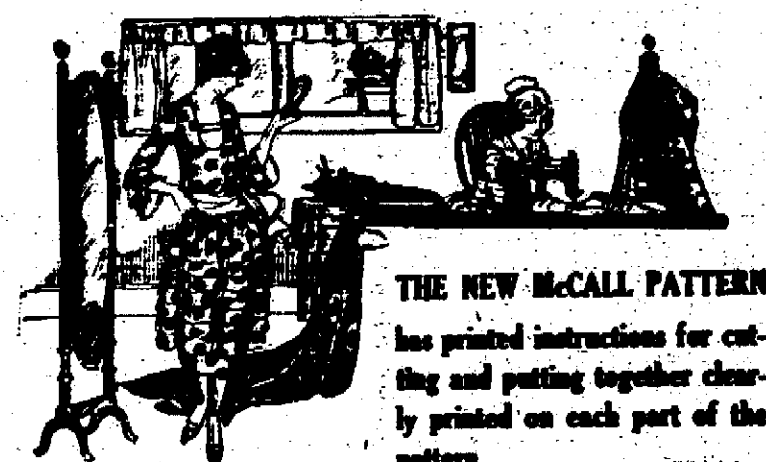

William F. G. Harding, of Alabama, governor of the Federal Reserve Board, is one Democrat likely to remain in office indefinitely, according to reports from Washington. It is said that President Harding and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon admire the way Governor Harding has handled financial affairs and desire him to remain in office as long as he conveniently can. Much satisfaction was expressed in the capital because of the new president's attitude, as it indicated that the Federal Reserve system is to be kept out of politics.

A Good Case For a Long Time. George H. Brown of the town of Lloyd, who is attending supreme court, told an interesting case story at the New York Times today. Twenty-two years ago he bought a Jersey cow, three years old, and not long ago sold his farm and the cow, now 25 years old. About a year ago, when the cow was 22 years old, she had her last calf, and in still a grand cow, being a registered Jersey. This cow is considered a remarkable one.
